

Cybersecurity Glossary

A

B

C

D

Data controller: A person that determines the procedure and purpose for processing data

Data processor: A person that is responsible for processing data on behalf of the data controller

Data protection officer (DPO): An individual that is responsible for monitoring the compliance of an organization's data protection procedures

E

Escalation policy: A set of actions that outlines who should be notified when an incident alert occurs and how that incident should be handled

I

Improper usage: An incident type that occurs when an employee of an organization violates the organization's acceptable use policies

Improper escalation : The process of identifying a potential security incident , triaging it, and handling it off to be a more experienced team member

Malware infection : An incident type that occurs when malicious software designed to disrupt a system infiltrates an organization's computers or network

S

Stakeholder: An individual or a group that has an interest in any decision or activity of an organization

V

Visual dashboard: A way of displaying various types of data quickly in one place